

“Immovable Object, Unstoppable Force: Angela Merkel, Vladimir Putin and the New Politics of Containment”

Dr. Joyce Mushaben’s lecture coincides with the launch of her new book by Cambridge University Press: Becoming Madam Chancellor: Angela Merkel and the Berlin Republic. Germany’s engagement with Russia, and the outcome of the recent elections will be discussed by respondents, Dina Spechler, Political Science; and Johannes Türk, Germanic Studies.

Monday, October 2nd

12:00-1:30pm GISB 3067

Lunch served at 12pm

Presentation begins at 12:30pm

SCHOOL OF GLOBAL AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
INSTITUTE FOR EUROPEAN STUDIES

For more information please contact euroinst@indiana.edu