

thursday
Nov 10th 2016

A lecture by, and conversation with,
Pap NDiaye, author and professor at the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris.
Post-lecture discussion will be moderated by Michael Dawson (Professor, Political Science, Faculty Director, CSRPC).

MINORITY^{the} PARADOX

Blackness in France

w/ PAP
NDIAYE

TELECONFERENCE

Pap NDiaye is a historian, specializing in the social history of the United States with a focus on its minorities. He holds a doctorate from the Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales (EHESS) where he was a lecturer before being selected in 2012 as Professor at the Institut d' Etudes Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po). NDiaye is a pioneer of "Black Studies" in French, and co-founded the Circle of Action for the Promotion of Diversity in France (CAPDIV) with Patrick Loze. He is currently working on a global history of civil rights in the 20th century.

7 :30-8 :30 pm

Global & International Studies
Building Lounge (First Floor)

IUB Moderator : Prof. Brett Bowles
Department of French & Italian